"Copper Moon Refreshment Services allows us to establish direct relationships with businesses throughout central Indiana, and provide a complete and consistent coffee program for any office, large or small," said Braden Gutwein, CEO of Copper Moon.

Doug Bachman, vice president and general manager of Copper Moon, will oversee the company's refreshment services division. "With coffee, freshness means everything, and since the coffee is roasted right here in Indianapolis, and sometimes delivered the same day, you can't get any fresher than this," he said.

Copper Moon will operate its new office coffee service division from its headquarters and 50,000 square foot roasting plant on the East side of Indianapolis. The terms of the deal include a customer base of hundreds of central Indiana businesses and convenience store chains. The company will continue to offer professional-grade equipment, installation and maintenance as well as a wide variety of premium coffees, cappuccino, teas, water, flavored syrups, and allied products.
